COMMENTS ON THE ECONOMIC MARKET

The first quarter of 2025 ended in a climate of heightened volatility, not least because of the US President's controversial trade proposals. On the stock markets, the S&P 500 index was adversely affected by these measures, recording a quarterly return of -4.2% in Canadian dollars. The S&P/TSX index held up better, posting a performance of 1.5% over the same period. In the fixed-income securities sector, the FTSE Canada Universe Bond Index closed the quarter with a return of 2%. In addition, the Bank of Canada lowered its key rate by 25 basis points, from 3% to 2.75%.

The returns shown are those achieved by the plan as a whole (see prospectus). Please note that the amount of EAPs from a group plan will depend on the income generated by the plan and the number of beneficiaries in the same cohort entitled to EAPs.

INVESTMENT GOALS

The UNIVERSITAS Plan is a group scholarship plan designed to save for a beneficiary's post-secondary education. Repayment of invested capital and sales charges is guaranteed at maturity. The investments made by the plan entail certain risks, and returns will vary from year to year. The plan invests mainly in fixed-income securities, such as corporate bonds, Treasury bills and bonds issued or guaranteed by a federal government, or by a provincial or municipal Canadian government. The earnings on contributions and grants are mainly invested in Canadian and U.S. equities. All assets invested in the plan follow a sustainable investment policy that factors environmental, social, and governance (ESG) concerns into the investment process.

The UNIVERSITAS Plan is no longer available for sale as of May 1, 2022. Contracts taken out on or before April 30, 2022, remain in force, but units can no longer be added. Additional one-off or recurring contributions can be made to an individual IDEO+ plan. Please refer to the information folder for full details. Copies of the information folder and latest prospectus are available from Kaleido Growth Inc. or at www.kaleido.ca.

BONDS:

A bond is a financial instrument issued by a company, a government or a public or private entity, representing a contractual debt. It gives the investor (the bondholder) the right to receive periodic payments (called “coupons”) until the bond matures, when the principal amount of the debt is repaid. Note that several bonds may share the same name or issuer, but differ in characteristics such as life, interest rates, issue price and repayment terms. Bonds, sometimes called “fixed income”, are generally considered to be more conservative investments.

SHARES:

Shares are a form of ownership issued by a listed company. The holder of a share becomes a shareholder and has certain rights, such as the right to vote at the company’s general meetings and the right to profits, which may be paid out in the form of dividends. The value of shares fluctuates mainly according to the company’s market performance.

FOREIGN EQUITIES (FRN. EQUITIES):

These are foreign equities from developed countries. Foreign equities are issued by a company or corporation based in a country other than Canada or the United States.

EXCHANGE-TRADED FUNDS (ETFs):

An ETF is an investment fund that is traded on the stock exchange. Index ETFs are investment instruments designed to replicate the performance of a stock market, such as the Toronto Stock Exchange. They are traded like equities and offer investors diversification and flexibility.

COHORT:

A cohort is a group of UNIVERSITAS Plan beneficiaries with the same year of birth. Beneficiaries in the same cohort share the income generated by the contributions of all subscribers in the cohort.

MARKET REFERENCE:

Indicator used to compare portfolio performance. It generally represents the average performance of a given market or sector.

EDUCATION ASSISTANCE PAYMENTS (EAPs):

This refers to amounts paid to an eligible RESP beneficiary for post-secondary education. These amounts include grants obtained under the plan and all income generated over the years. EAPs do not include subscriber contributions.

ANNUALIZED RETURN:

Annualized return is the rate of return on an investment on an annual basis. It allows you to compare the performance of various investments over an equivalent period, regardless of their actual duration. To calculate the annualized return, periodic returns (e.g., monthly or quarterly returns) are taken into account and converted into an equivalent annual rate.

EXPENSES PAID BY THE PLAN:

The fees paid by the Plan include:

- administration fees;
- portfolio management fees;
- trustee fees;
- custodian fees;
- compensation of independent committee members;
- the Plan’s operating expenses, which Kaleido Growth Inc. does not deduct from administration fees
